

AI's Impact on Litigation

December 17, 2025

By Niall McMillan and Anders Sleight

Welcome back to Litigator's Lounge! In this episode, Niall McMillan and Anders Sleight from Offit Kurman discuss how AI is reshaping the legal landscape. They explore several key areas of concern, including AI-driven hiring tools leading to discrimination lawsuits, intellectual property disputes from AI content scraping, and data privacy violations. Anders also provides practical guidance on cautious AI usage for business operations. Tune in for a comprehensive look at the legal challenges AI presents and how to navigate them.
