Offit Kurman Welcomes New Chief Innovation Officer and Chief Operating Officer

April 21, 2026

Am Law 200 firm Offit Kurman is excited to announce the addition of Alex Finkel as Chief Innovation Officer and Christy Walsh as Chief Operating Officer, strengthening the firm's executive leadership team and reinforcing its commitment to operational excellence, innovation, and long-term growth.

In his role as Chief Innovation Officer, Finkel will lead firmwide innovation initiatives focused on technology, AI, and operational transformation. He brings more than 20 years of experience building and scaling complex businesses at the intersection of technology, government, and regulated enterprise. A seasoned operator and transformation leader, Finkel has driven enterprise value across product development, engineering, and multi-site operations in public, private, and private equity-backed environments.

"As the legal industry continues to evolve, innovation must be intentional, practical, and aligned with business outcomes," Finkel said. "I'm excited to work alongside firm leadership to strengthen our platforms, enhance attorney and client support through technology, and build scalable systems that advance Offit Kurman's long-term strategy."

Christy Walsh will serve as Chief Operating Officer, leading the firm's operations and driving strategic initiatives to advance growth, performance, and client service. With more than a decade of executive leadership experience in law firm management, Walsh is responsible for aligning the firm's business and operational functions with its strategic priorities.

"I'm proud to support a firm that values collaboration, accountability, and thoughtful growth," Walsh said. "My focus will be ensuring our operations effectively support our attorneys and professionals so they can continue delivering outstanding service to our clients."

"Alex and Christy bring complementary strengths that align with Offit Kurman's strategic priorities of continued growth, operational excellence, and improvement through
