Anthony Potter Named Chair of ACEC/PA Legal Counsel Forum

January 22, 2026

Offit Kurman is pleased to announce that Principal Attorney and Construction Law Practice Group Lead Anthony Potter has been appointed Chair of the American Council of Engineering Companies of Pennsylvania's \(ACEC/PA\) Legal Counsel Forum. ACEC/PA is dedicated to promoting and enhancing the business interests and profitability of consulting engineering and related firms across Pennsylvania, supporting the delivery of high-quality engineering services in the best interest of clients and the public.

The newly formed ACEC/PA legal counsel forum is designed for in-house and outside legal counsel who work with ACEC/PA firms and their executives. The forum will convene quarterly to address the most critical legal and governmental affairs issues facing the consulting engineering community.

Under Tony's leadership, the forum will provide a platform for discussion on key topics, including The Fair Share Act, joint and several liability, indemnification, duties to defend, statute of repose, contracting, professional licensing, and other developments in Pennsylvania law that impact consulting engineers and engineering firms. The legal counsel forum offers participants the opportunity to stay informed on important cases, emerging risks, and legislative and regulatory changes impacting engineering businesses.
