David Severn Featured in The Frederick News-Post's Article on Possible Development Moratorium

October 13, 2023

Principal David Severn, resident in the firm's Frederick office, was featured in The Frederick News-Post for his thoughts on Councilman Steve McKay's proposed legislation. David emphasizes the importance of ensuring that any proposed moratorium is legally justified and directly addresses specific issues of concern. He points out that moratoriums are typically employed in cases related to new legislation, water capacity, or other specific factors and that a broad, wide-ranging restriction could have unintended consequences.
