

DIY Divorces Recap

February 13, 2023

By Cheryl L. Hepfer and Sandra A. Brooks

There's a lot to be said for embracing a do-it-yourself (DIY) ethos. DIYers develop useful skills, sometimes discover new hobbies, and often save a great deal of money. But while plenty of DIY projects can reduce upfront costs and bring personal fulfillment, there are some things you should never, ever do yourself.

Giving your house a fresh coat of paint? Go for it!

Brewing beer in your garage? Sure—why not?

Handling your own divorce proceedings? Not a great idea.

Looking to handle a divorce or another family legal matter in the best way possible? Don't rely on a simple document retrieval service. Offit Kurman's Family Law attorneys are dedicated to resolving conflicts and protecting your and your family's interests in a fast, straightforward, and cost-effective manner. See for yourself what we can do for you.