Erin Golding Inducted as Fellow of American Academy of Matrimonial Lawyers

May 6, 2026

Offit Kurman is proud to announce that Principal Erin C. Golding has been inducted as a Fellow of the American Academy of Matrimonial Lawyers \(AAML\), one of the most selective professional organizations in the field of family law.

Founded in 1962, AAML is a national nonprofit association dedicated to advancing the practice of family law through education, publications, training, and professional collaboration. Fellowship is extended to attorneys who demonstrate a high level of professional achievement, ethical conduct, and commitment to the practice of matrimonial law.

With nearly 1,500 Fellows nationwide across 33 state chapters, AAML sets standards for excellence in matrimonial practice and promotes improvements in the quality of family law services for attorneys and litigants alike.

Erin's induction reflects her experience and dedication to serving clients in a wide range of family law matters, including divorce, custody and support issues, property distribution, and marital agreements.
