

Executive Playbook: Maryland Saves Program

September 29, 2022

By Russell B. Berger and Mike Cammarata

On this month's episode of the Executive Playbook, Mike Cammarata and Russell Berger discuss the new Maryland Saves program. Under this program, almost all employers in Maryland are required to either offer a retirement plan of their own or to provide their employees with access to the Maryland Saves program. While this program should not cost employers any out-of-pocket funds, it is an opportunity for employers to ensure that they are taking strategic steps to not only comply with the law but to provide meaningful benefits to employees. Listen in to learn more about the financial and legal opportunities Maryland Saves presents for business owners.
