

Publications & News

In the News

Ian Thomas Admitted as Member to International Masters of Gaming Law (IMGL)

October 25, 2024

Offit Kurman principal attorney Ian Thomas has been accepted as a member of the exclusive International Masters of Gaming Law (IMGL). This non-profit association is a select group of top professionals in gambling law, recognized for their leadership and influence in the industry. Ian's membership in IMGL places him among an esteemed group of over 300 gaming attorneys, regulators, educators, executives, and consultants.

IMGL is dedicated to education, hosting two prominent international conferences each year to provide industry learning and networking opportunities. Members frequently participate in IMGL Masterclasses, organized in collaboration with major gaming industry events across the US, Europe, Asia, and other regions. Additionally, IMGL members contribute to ongoing professional development sessions for gambling regulators. The organization is widely respected by gaming operators, suppliers, regulators, and investors for its role in shaping the future of gambling laws.

Ian's membership in IMGL highlights his commitment to staying on top of the latest developments in the gaming industry, allowing him to provide valuable insights to clients navigating this dynamic field.

Related People

- Ian Thomas

Related Services

- Commercial Litigation