Los Angeles, CA – 213.341.1323

For more than 25 years, Fisher J. "Jim" Kinslow has advised physicians, nurse practitioners, healthcare companies, pharmaceutical organizations, biotechnology businesses, and medical device companies on a broad range of legal, regulatory, and business matters. His practice focuses on helping healthcare providers and organizations navigate complex regulatory requirements while supporting their operational and strategic goals.

Jim counsels clients on matters involving California's Corporate Practice of Medicine laws and regulations, healthcare privacy and compliance issues, telemedicine requirements, commercial contracts, and corporate governance. He works closely with healthcare organizations to develop compliant business structures, policies, and documentation that address regulatory obligations and operational needs.

In addition, Jim advises clients on intellectual property matters, including portfolio licensing and related agreements, as well as clinical trial and risk management issues. He has also served as a corporate secretary and advisor to boards of directors, providing practical guidance on governance and business operations.

Jim's experience includes international corporate and commercial transactions involving England, France, Singapore, and Germany. He represents healthcare providers, startups, and life sciences companies seeking solutions to the legal and regulatory challenges that arise throughout the business lifecycle.
