

Jason Isaacs

Attorney

jason.isaacs@offitkurman.com

New York, NY

Jason Isaacs counsels individuals and families as they navigate legal issues related to marriage, parenting, and family relationships. He approaches each matter with care and professionalism, recognizing that family law matters often involve both complex legal considerations and deeply personal circumstances.

Jason supports clients through a range of matters arising from family and marital disputes. He is committed to providing clear communication, thoughtful guidance, and practical support at every stage of the legal process, helping clients understand their options and make informed decisions during challenging times.

Jason is mindful of the personal dynamics that frequently accompany family law matters and strives to provide clients with steady counsel and responsive support. By combining diligence, attention to detail, and a measured approach, he helps clients move forward with clarity and confidence.

Before entering private practice, Jason served as an Assistant District Attorney in the Bronx County District Attorney's office, where he developed a strong foundation in litigation and courtroom advocacy. This experience sharpened his ability to manage sensitive matters with professionalism, preparation, and sound judgment; skills he brings to his family law practice.

Outside of his legal practice, Jason enjoys playing basketball and discovering new restaurants throughout New York City.
