Offit Kurman Client Schüco International Partners with Skyline Windows in Strategic Venture

June 19, 2024

New York – (June 19, 2024) Offit Kurman is proud to announce its representation of Schüco International, headquartered in Bielefeld, Germany, a global leader in innovative building envelopes, in a significant transaction with Skyline Windows. The deal involves a minority investment by Schüco International into Skyline Windows, solidifying a new joint venture that promises to enrich the standards in the architectural windows manufacturing industry by combining market power, technological excellence, and leadership in the engineering of sustainable architectural building envelopes.

Skyline Windows, renowned for its market-leading position in architectural window solutions, attracted the attention of Schüco International, a billion-dollar enterprise with a rich history of excellence in engineering building envelope systems. The investment marks a strategic move by Schüco International to expand its footprint in the North American market and capitalize on Skyline Windows' expertise and reputation.

"This transaction represents a pivotal moment for both Schüco International and Skyline Windows," commented Florian von Eyb, member of the German American International Practice at Offit Kurman. "We are honored to have facilitated this partnership and are excited about the opportunities it presents for both parties."

The collaboration between Schüco International and Skyline Windows is poised to drive innovation and propel growth in the architectural window industry. By combining Schüco International's global resources and expertise with Skyline Windows' market leadership, the joint venture aims to deliver unparalleled value to clients and stakeholders.
