

Publications & News

In the News

Offit Kurman Principal Candace Dellacona Returns to CBS Mornings to Discuss Protecting Your Loved Ones from Romance Scams

March 9, 2026

Candace Dellacona, principal in Offit Kurman's Estates and Trusts practice group and host of The Sandwich Generation Survival Guide, appeared on CBS Mornings on Monday, March 9, for an insightful conversation with Adrain Diaz, Nate Burleson and Valdimir Duthiers. Her third appearance on the show discussed protecting aging family members from romance scams.

Candace discussed warning signs, actions to watch for, and how loved ones can help protect vulnerable seniors. As an attorney who regularly advises families on estate planning and long-term care strategies, Candace also highlighted the importance of preparation, support systems, and open communication while confronting difficult conversations around finances.

Watch the full segment here: How to protect your loved ones from romance scams- CBS News

Listen to The Sandwich Generation Survival Guide: <https://www.offitkurman.com/candace-dellacona/the-sandwich-generation-survival-guide-podcast>

Watch Candace's November CBS Mornings appearance here: Expert gives tips for "sandwich generation" caregivers, explains "biggest mistake we make" – CBS News

Watch Candace's July CBS Mornings appearance here: Coping with the stress of the sandwich generation - CBS News

Related People

- Candace Dellacona

Related Services

- Estates and Trusts