Offit Kurman Represents Finer Days in Acquisition of North Carolina-Based Personal Home Health Care Service Provider

December 4, 2024

Offit Kurman successfully represented Finer Days Healthcare, LLC in its recent acquisition of all assets of a North Carolina personal home health care service provider. The transaction was completed under the guidance of Offit Kurman attorneys, Michael N. Mercurio and Paige Vankooten.

Earlier this year, the team also represented Finer Days in the acquisition of the equities of Advanced Business Concepts Incorporated, which operated as Catawba Valley Medical Services. This transaction strengthened Finer Days' presence in the home health care market as the company continues to expand its portfolio of health service providers.

Based in Lexington, Kentucky, Finer Days Healthcare is a national portfolio company that focuses on business operations, consolidation, financial optimization, and acquisitions in the home healthcare industry. Finer Days' strategic growth has been supported by trusted advisors like Offit Kurman, whose business law professionals provided guidance in complex transactions within the healthcare sector.
