Offit Kurman Welcomes Ingrid Johnson to Estates and Trusts Practice

January 23, 2025

Offit Kurman welcomes Ingrid Johnson to the firm's estates and trusts practice group in New York City. With a focus on guardianships, probate litigation, estate and trust administration, and elder law, Ingrid brings a thoughtful and strategic approach to her practice, offering compassionate counsel to clients facing sensitive and complex legal challenges.

Ingrid represents clients in contested estate matters, including will contests, accounting proceedings, and fiduciary disputes, and advises on guardianship issues for incapacitated individuals and those with developmental disabilities. With a strong background in tax law, she also offers comprehensive support in estate and trust administration, ensuring smooth and efficient outcomes for executors and beneficiaries.

A dedicated advocate for public service, Ingrid has been recognized as a Wasserstein Public Interest Fellow by Harvard Law School.
