Offit Kurman Welcomes Robyn St. Hilaire to the Construction Law Practice

November 5, 2025

Offit Kurman is pleased to announce that Robyn St. Hilaire has joined the firm's construction law, transactions, and disputes practice group. She will practice out of the firm's Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, office.

Robyn supports contractors, design professionals, and consultants across the architecture, engineering, and construction (AEC) industry with practical, detail-driven counsel. She assists clients with contract preparation and review, compliance with state and federal procurement requirements, and matters involving professional certification, licensing, and qualification standards.

In her prior role at Offit Kurman, Robyn gained experience in administrative and regulatory matters affecting design and construction professionals.
