Russell Berger and Sarah Sawyer Published in Law360 Workplace Violence Article

June 9, 2022

In the May 25, 2022 edition of Law360, Labor and Employment Principals Russell Berger and Sarah Sawyer, published the article, Preventing Workplace Violence Is Not Just For The Oscars.

The article points out that workplace violence is not just happening at the Oscars. This issue is increasing across the United States and Mr. Berger and Ms. Sawyer offer information regarding what happens if workplace violence does occur and how to navigate this as an employer. They also explore the issues and risks associated with companies hiring an employee who has been violent outside of the workplace.
