Stephenie Yeung Achieves Artificial Intelligence Governance Professional Certification

November 24, 2025

Offit Kurman is pleased to announce that principal attorney Stephenie Yeung has earned the Artificial Intelligence Governance Professional (AIGP) certification from the International Association of Privacy Professionals (IAPP). This credential recognizes her ability to guide clients in navigating the ethical, legal, and operational considerations of artificial intelligence.

"I pursued the AIGP certification to stay ahead of the curve as AI becomes an integral part of how businesses operate," said Stephenie. "This knowledge allows me to help clients embrace innovation while ensuring their use of AI remains ethical, transparent, and compliant with evolving regulations."

Already designated as a Certified Information Privacy Professional (CIPP/US), Stephenie's new certification further expands her capacity to advise clients on the responsible use and governance of emerging technologies. The AIGP designation signifies a comprehensive understanding of AI systems, responsible AI principles, applicable regulations, and risk management throughout the AI lifecycle.
