Voytek Jackowski to Speak at a/e ProNet 2024 Fall Conference

September 19, 2024

Voytek Jackowski will speak at the a/e ProNet 2024 Fall Conference in Charleston, SC. The event will be held from September 24 – 26 and brings together insurance, design and legal professionals from across the country.

Voytek will present on the topic: “Pre-construction Services by ‘Others’: Solution or Complication?” with Anthony Carolei of Hanver Insurance. The session will explore the challenges and potential benefits of outsourcing pre-construction services to third parties, offering valuable legal and practical perspectives for attendees.

a/e ProNet is a network of independent insurance brokers that specializes in addressing the professional liability insurance and risk management needs of design professionals. The annual fall conference offers a platform for experts to share their insights on emerging issues in the design and construction sectors.
